

Bertoni Jewelry in Helicopter Mom

How many times have you watched a movie and admired the stars' clothes, hair and jewelry? There are entire websites devoted to helping us "normal folk" locate items we've seen on our favorite celebrities. If you make it out to see the new movie Helicopter Mom starring Nia Vardalos, you don't have to search far to locate the jewelry you'll find in the movie.

The film, slated for wide release on April 24 was written by Duke Tran and directed by directed by Salomé Breziner. The story follows Maggie, played by Vardalos and her college bound-son Lloyd, played by Jason Dolley (Good Luck Charlie). As the title of the movie suggests, Maggie is an extremely overbearing parent, who struggles with the idea of her beloved son leaving her nest. When she finally agrees that college is what's best for her baby, she will stop at nothing to ensure he gets into the school he wants, and even outs him as gay (he's never claimed to be gay) in order to secure his eligibility for a scholarship. If that wasn't humiliating enough for her son, Maggie also sets up an online dating profile for Lloyd to create the full illusion.

Rachel Bertoni-Finstad Jewelry Will Be Featured in the Film

Will Maggie ever let go? If we know Hollywood, the odds are good. Even if she doesn't manage to change her helicopter-mom ways, we can all agree that Vardalos looks amazing in the movie. Handmade jewelry from designer Rachel Bertoni-Finstad is featured throughout the film, not only on Maggie, but on other characters as well, highlighting the versatility of her pieces.

Here, you can see Maggie wearing two necklaces together, creating a complimentary, layered statement. The stylists chose a silver Morning Dew necklace with Amethyst and double strand green crystal layered chain:

In this movie poster, actress Skyler Samuels (Duff) is featured wearing Unakite earrings from Bertoni's Lollipop collection:

Actor Mark Boone Junior (Sons of Anarchy, Memento) is also slated to be featured wearing a turquoise ring, but you'll have to see the movie in order to catch a glimpse.

Unique Designs For Unique Expression

Women and men have been using jewelry as a way of expressing themselves since the age of antiquity. Jewelry can express social status, attract the attention of a potential admirer, express individuality, show a state of emotion, and it can even reveal the beliefs and values of the person wearing it.

Since 1982, Rachel Bertoni-Finstad has been creating original, handmade jewelry crafted from silver, gold, semi-precious and precious stones. Her pieces are created as artwork for the body, rather than simple accessories, allowing the wearer to express their unique personality traits. Many of Bertoni's fabricated metal pieces are one-of-a-kind, creating true statement pieces.

The creative staff of Helicopter Mom could have chosen a mass-market designer for their pieces, but instead, they wanted to create unique looks for their characters that would bring out their bold personalities. If you like what you see in the film, take some time to browse Rachel Bertoni-Finstad's latest pieces on her website.